CONGRESS CAN GET NOWHERE ON OPA SETUP

HOUSE REFUSES TO BUDGE ON FOOD PRICE CONTROL

Washington, July 19 (AP)—A ban on government "propaganda in support of price control" was voted by Congress late today, while Senate-House conferees labored without success to agree on a bill reviving OPA.

"We're going nowhere the fastest I ever saw," was the glum comment of Senator Barkley (D-Ky.), a leader in the attempt to write a bill that President Truman won't veto.

An afternoon session of the conference got nowhere and another meeting was set for tomorrow. Barkley announced that "we will work as long as there is any hope."

An appropriation bill the Senate passed and sent to the White House granted OPA $75,000,000 for expenses during the present fiscal year—if the agency is revived, but stipulated that none of the money shall be used for "general propaganda in support of price control."

The $75,000,000 was a compromise between the $100,000,000 the House had voted before the price control agency legally died July 1 and the $50,000,000 the Senate had voted to allow if it is revived by pending legislation.

Deadlock Tightens
The two houses also voted to cut out of the measure a proposed $50,000 appropriation for a joint committee to report on economic prospects, a setup provided under the recently-enacted employment bill.

As for the argument over reviving OPA, conferees for the House flatly refused to accept any Senate proposal that does not assure restoration of price ceilings on milk, meat, eggs and other foods.

That decision drew still tighter the deadlock over what sort of OPA—if any—shall get a new lease on life and prompted Senate Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky to say the prospect for an OPA revival agreement "doesn't look so good."

Refusing to budge from their insistence on putting basic foods back under price controls, the House members of the Senate-House conference committee turned thumbs down on a proposed compromise submitted by a sub-committee of Senators Taft, Tobey (R-N.H.), and Radcliffe (D-Md.).

This proposal would have left to a three-man board, with higher authority than OPA, the decision whether food price ceilings should be restored.

Furniture Buyers Choosy, Wait Until Shows in January

Chicago, July 19 (AP)—Furniture buyers left the merchandise mart's annual summer home furnishings show today with a "wait until the January show" feeling, Wallace O. Ollman, mart general manager, reported.

"Most buyers and manufacturers," Ollman said "expect a return to something like prewar normalcy by the beginning of the year. Indications are that this will be distinctly a buyer's market for the first time in years."

He said he based his opinion on the selectivity with which he said the majority of buyers shopped this summer's market. The mart said its buyer registration increased 100 per cent.

TEST AT BIKINI IS SUCCESSFUL

Atom Bomb Blast Under Water Scheduled For Next Thursday

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

Aboard USS Appalachian, July 19 (AP)—Despite the distraction caused by the premature flash of a 100-pound flare, a successful test was conducted today of the intricate mechanism to be used July 25 in detonating the first atom bomb ever exploded under water.

Because an electronic device was substituted for the bomb, only a radio blip marked the moment of detonation at Bikini lagoon, culminating the use of radio impulses from a distant ship.

Tried out for the first time, the complicated mechanism worked perfectly, Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy announced from his flagship, the Mt. McKinley.

The flare which went off 51 minutes ahead of schedule, startling onlookers, was being used to synchronize cameras and lacked the elaborate safeguards used in the bomb-firing circuit.

In a 700-mile radio interview, spanning the distance between his flagship and this press ship, Admiral Blandy foresaw as 50-50 the chances that the underwater burst would occur on schedule at 8:35 a. m. July 25 4:35 p. m. Central Daylight Time July 24, U. S. date.)

Postoffice Workers To Get Delayed Pay

Washington, July 19 (AP)—Senate approval of a compromise with the House on the $1,604,862-140 treasury-office appropriation bill sent late today.

White House President Truman signs it postal workers and some treasury employees can get their mid-July pay checks, held up while Congress wrangled.

Differences between the two houses on most provisions of the bill had been ironed out some time ago, but the measure was held up by disagreement over the price of treasury silver.

The silver controversy was transferred to separate legislation, making possible final congressional action on the supply bill.

Paralysis Spreads; Minneapolis Calls For Emergency Aid

Minneapolis, July 19 (AP)—Fifteen new cases of infantile paralysis, bringing the total to 79 since July 1, were reported to the Minneapolis city welfare board today on the heels of a board decision declaring a state of emergency.

Dr. Frank J. Hill, city health commissioner, who reported the new cases said deaths in Minneapolis due to the disease total six since July 1. Deaths since the first of the year total seven.

The welfare board today adopted a resolution stating that the present situation constitutes an emergency. The resolution enables the city to enlist the aid of the American Red Cross and National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis to obtain nurses and other medical help.

Boy, 14, Held For Two Murders, Reveals He Picked Third Victim

Oroville, Calif., July 19 (AP)—

In a tense courtroom appearance, punctured by shrill feminine outcries, 14-year-old Albert Jones was arraigned in a justice court at Chico today on double charges of murder.

Albert is accused of strangling to death, in a fit of pique over a kitten, Patricia Ann Crandall, 14, and fatally wounding Mrs. Myrtle Nielsen, Chico housewife, because he "wanted to drive her car." Two additional charges of assault and one of attempted murder were also preferred.

Before the arraignment, District Attorney J. M. McPherson disclosed that Albert had blandly announced he had chosen a third victim, a boy he called his "best friend," and whom the district attorney identified as Harlan Hume, son of the Chico city manager.

McPherson said Albert related in an interview:

"I was going to push him in a creek and drown him. I thought about it before. I wasn't mad at him. I just thought about killing him," McPherson said the boy told him.

Mrs. Myrtle Nielsen, Chico housewife, became the second victim of Albert's inexplicable impulses. She died last night of a bullet wound in the abdomen received as she fed Albert cookies at her home Tuesday.

Other charges against Albert are:

1. Murder of Patricia Ann Crandall June 18, by strangling the 14-year-old school girl in a fit of pique over a cat. (McPherson said Albert admitted the slaying, and setting fire to the girl's hair and the house.)

2. Attempted murder of Mrs. Nielsen's husband, Harel, who was summoned by a hysterical telephone call from his grown daughter, Betty, after Mrs. Nielsen was shot. McPherson said Albert fired a shot at Nielsen when he came in, piercing his coat sleeve.

3. Assault on Betty Nielsen, who said he gagged her by pushing an apricot in her mouth and tying her up.

4. Assault on Barbara Searle, 6, a neighbor girl in the Nielsen house, who was also gagged and tied.

CARS LACKING; CATTLE LOWER

Declines Level Off As Markets Reverse Their Trends

Chicago, July 19 (AP)—Sharply declining livestock prices leveled off somewhat today and at some of the nation's markets actually reversed their trend as some bearish influences were dissipated.

Cattle at Chicago Union stockyards dropped another 50 cents to a dollar today, compared with a decline of 50 cents to $1.50 a hundred pounds on Thursday. Hogs were down about 25 to 50 cents, but sank as much as $2.50 Thursday.

Indianapolis, Ind., and Sioux City, Ia., reported hog prices were 50 cents to $1.00 higher than the last session, and St. Louis, Mo., listed values up strongly to mostly 25 cents a hundred. St. Paul, Minn., on the other hand, reported hogs about $1.00 lower.

One factor influencing the sharpest drop in history was lack of cars in which to ship animals to the east and west coasts. However, empties were reported streaming back to the car-hungry central west this week end. Another influence was said to be that Washington reports of OPA legislation continued to exempt meat from price controls.

Receipts at a dozen markets for the week rose to 466,290 hogs, estimated, compared with 233,556 actual numbers on sale last week. Cattle received this week were 329,600 head, compared with 289,299 last week.

STUDEBAKER CLOSES

South Bend, Ind., July 19 (AP)—The Studebaker Corporation posted notices today informing 8,000 employees that passenger car production would be halted indefinitely Monday because of a strike in a plant from which supplies are obtained. Officials declined to name the plant. Truck production will be continued.

SILVER SUPPLY TO BE SPURRED

Government Will Sell To Industry At 90.5 Cents An Ounce

Washington, July 19 (AP)—Congress today completed legislation permitting the sale of government-owned silver to industry at 90.5 cents an ounce.

The measure now requires only the president's approval.

It is designed to relieve a shortage which has caused at least one concern to melt dollars to obtain silver. Its sponsors also expect it to stimulate production of silver and other metals in short supply.

The final agreement was on a price of 90.5 cents an ounce for both government purchase and sale. No silver may be purchased by the treasury at this price unless it has been mined within a year before the time it is offered.

The present purchase price of silver is 71.11 cents an ounce and the amendment is aimed at any who might have hoarded it during the many months the price has been in controversy.

CONTROL TOWER REOPENED

WAR PROFITS INQUIRY CALLS FOR REP. MAY

SUBPOENA SERVED ON CONGRESSMAN IN ARMS DEALS

BY JOHN W. HENDERSON

Washington, July 19 (AP)—An undercover inquiry into the relations of a second congressman with a war contractor was reported in progress tonight after the Senate war investigating committee formally served a subpoena on Rep. May (D-Ky.).

The committee wants to get May in the witness chair to ask him about previous testimony linking his name with financial deals and influence on behalf of a midwest munitions combine.

May was tagged with the subpoena by a committee representative in a first floor corridor of the new House office building, where May's office is located. May accepted it without comment.

Earlier May had showed signs of ignoring such a summons. Officials said the House would have to grant him special permission before he could testify under compulsion.

Second Solon Involved
Meantime, persons familiar with the Senate committee's work said the name of a second member of the House of representatives not previously mentioned in public testimony, had entered into the investigation.

These persons, who cannot be named, said the committee had come into possession of three documents which purported to be:

1. A photographed copy of a check for $2,500, dated May 19, 1945, from a contractor engaged on a $1,000,000 job, to the secretary of the Congress member.

2. A letter from the secretary to the contractor expressing gratitude for assistance, inasmuch as the expenses of the member's office in Washington were great.

3. A letter from the member to the contractor saying that the "slip of paper" given to his secretary was going to relieve a great deal of the member's worries.

The correspondence was said to indicate that the contractor had run into difficulties in dealing with a government department and had gone to the House member for assistance.

Photostats of the documents, it was learned, had been forwarded to Senator Brewster (R-Me.), who turned them over to the committee. Committee counsel have started an investigation based on the documents.

Railway Trainmen Postpone Walkout On Illinois Central

Chicago, July 19 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen today "temporarily" postponed a scheduled strike of 4,500 Illinois Central Railroad employees to facilitate government mediation efforts.

W. M. Dolan, Cleveland, vice president of the BRT, announced postponement of the strike which had been scheduled for 10 p. m. Sunday. The executive committee of the I-C Brotherhood, he said, voted the postponement.

The BRT has presented 743 grievances, and Dolan said the government mediator, Thomas Bickers, was attempting in several conferences with company and union officials to bring about agreement on the disputed points. Such procedure is provided by the Railway Labor Act.

Pilot Buzzes Low To Inform Farmer His Cows Are Out

Dunkirk, N. Y., July 19 (AP)—Farmer William Lesch says he heard a plane buzzing low over his house yesterday and rushed out to find Preston Dedrick, proprietor of Fredonia Airport, circling slowly.

The pilot cut his motor, leaned out the window and yelled: "Hey, your cows are out."

Lesch said he found 50 of his cows loose and headed for his out free.

Free Press Proviso Included in UNRRA Appropriation Bill

Washington, July 19 (AP)—Senate passage sent to President Truman today a $465,000,000 appropriation carrying a modified "free press provision."

It would deny aid to Russia or other countries which censor news unless they permit accounts of UNRRA activities to be sent without modifications or deletions.

Hot Weather Helps Meat Buyer Strike

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hot weather supported the buyers' strike against high meat prices Friday.

Detroit, central point of the CIO United Auto Workers' buyers' strike, reported markedly decreased sales, and an industry spokesman attributed this partly to the heat.

The mercury ran up to 95 degrees at mid-afternoon in the motor city.

"The sales are very slow because of three factors—the heat, the buyers' boycott and the high prices," said Sidney Black, business manager for the Detroit Retail Meat Merchants Association.

Black said at a rough estimate prices in Detroit had fallen to points 10 to 20 per cent above OPA levels as compared with a general average of 40 per cent directly after OPA's expiration.

Livestock price declines leveled off at most of the country's markets in generally slow trade. The markets, however, are usually quiet on Friday in view of week-end closings. There were sharp declines Thursday.

On the other hand the Indianapolis hog market opened 50 cents to $1.00 higher a hundredweight than Thursday's opening and was mostly $1.00 higher at the close. St. Louis reported hogs strong to 25 cents higher.

BREAK ARRIVES IN HEAT WAVE

All Existing Records Broken By Mercury Rise In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

A mass of cool air from Western Canada yesterday (Friday) moved eastward, breaking a heat wave that had toppled records throughout the country and had accompanied a drought which doomed some crops and created a serious forest fire menace in New England.

Temperatures dropped Friday in the Midwest, and the U. S. Weather Bureau said the cooler weather would reach the East by Sunday, with little prospect of renewed heat before the middle of next week.

Thundershowers in Southern Iowa and Northern Michigan accompanied the cool air, and showers were forecast for today (Saturday), in Western Massachusetts.

The potato crop in that state was reported apparently doomed, and farmers expressed fear for their corn. An acute shortage of grain and feed and the drying up of pastures forced dairymen to dip into winter reserves as the milk supply was threatened.

The Hampton County League, an agency to aid farmers, watered farm lands, devoid of moisture for 47 days, with 30,000 feet of hose and 50 pumps from the War Assets Administration.

Height of the heat wave was reached Thursday, with readings mainly in the 90's and touching 104 in Kansas City, Mo., and Wichita, Kas. Chicago's 100 set a seasonal record and also a new high for the date. Previous high was 98.8 in 1930.

Residents of Redding, Calif., sweltered under a high of 114 Friday. Detroit's 100 reading shattered a 74-year record for the date, and Boston's temperature of 96 broke a 68-year mark for July 19.

The 100 mark was passed at Yuma, Ariz., with 106, and Oklahoma City, with 102, while Abilene, Tex., and Fresno, Calif., had readings of 100.

A Romeo, Mich., merchant died of heat prostration, and the Hudson Motor Car Co., in Detroit halted production for the weekend because of the heat, idling some 16,000 workers.

Talmadge Conceded Victory In Georgia; Loses Negro Vote

Atlanta, July 19 (AP)—Gene Talmadge, who ran on a platform of "white supremacy," was conceded victory in the governor's race today by his runner-up, 36-year-old James V. Carmichael, who had the backing Gov. Ellis Arnall.

Complete unofficial returns gave Talmadge a total of 242 unit votes or 36 more than was required for nomination, but Carmichael led in the popular vote 314,421 to 304,760.

Ex-Gov. E. D. Rivers polled 67,750 popular votes and 20 unit votes.

Although getting the biggest vote ever given a candidate for governor in Georgia, Carmichael got only 148 unit votes. Generally, he carried the big cities and he got the new negro vote, the latter estimated at about 100,000.

Belle Isle Bridge Death Leap Taken Despite Boys' Plea

Detroit, July 19 (AP)—Pleas of three boys failed to halt the death leap of a 60-year-old man who jumped from the Belle Isle bridge today.

Police said the trio begged the man not to jump. They threw him an inflated tire tube when he disregarded them and jumped into the Detroit river, but he pushed it away and sank.

He was identified tentatively as James Ward of Detroit.

WAR DAMAGES DEMANDED BY REDS OPPOSED

TEN BILLION ASKED IN REPARATIONS FROM GERMANY

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic Reporter

Washington, July 19 (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley returned tonight to deliver a report to President Truman on his world reparations studies which officials expect to lead to sterner opposition to Russian reparations policies.

"This was a fact-finding mission and we got the facts," he told reporters at the airport at the end of his 40,000-mile mission which began May 4. He declined to elaborate pending his report to the president.

Soviet Scheme Evident

There already has been a noticeable stiffening of American policy all along the line so far as Russia is concerned. Particularly strong opposition has appeared against two relatively new Soviet demands: Foreign Minister Molotov's insistence on $10,000,000,000 reparations for the Soviet Union from Germany, and Russian moves to take industrial equipment from their zone in Austria in the face of Austrian claims that the plan would wreck the country's economy.

Diplomatic authorities here contend that the Russians are using reparations as a means of exercising direct economic control and therefore indirect political control in various countries. It has worked out that way in the Balkan states, these informants say, and the Russians appear to be trying to make it work out that way in Germany and Austria.

Pauley visited among other areas Japan, Korea, Manchuria, the Philippines, Germany and Austria. He called also at London and Paris.

Lad Ducks Clothes In Park, Attends Pirate Ball Game

Pittsburgh, July 19 (AP)—Ticket seller John McCartney's eyes blinked as a chunky little lad about three years old marched through a gate at Forbes field for yesterday's New York-Pittsburgh baseball game wearing only his shoes and socks.

McCartney promptly hustled up a baseball glove as the quickest bit of covering for the child. The youngster explained it was hot, and he had pulled off his clothes in a near by park.

Bakers Of Britain To Give Rationing Of Bread A Tryout

London, July 19 (AP)—Most of Britain's bakers reluctantly fell in line with the government's "must" bread rationing program today but the number of those signing petitions of protest near 400,000 and the Conservative Party still frowned on the scheme.

The plan received approval from the House of Commons early this morning and bread rationing is scheduled to start Sunday. The vote was 205 to 132—one of the smallest government majorities in the 12-month administration of the Laborites.

POWERS MAN IS RACKET VICTIM

Leroy Nelson Claims He Lost $200 On Punch Board Deal

Leroy Nelson, Powers service station operator, yesterday identified Mrs. Etta Henderson, 34, as the woman to whom he had paid $200 Wednesday in a punch board racket to which Mrs. Henderson, her husband and another couple pleaded guilty in Escanaba Thursday.

Undersheriff John Frederickson said that Nelson came to Escanaba yesterday morning and said that he had been victimized by the group that includes Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Allen. The quartet was arrested Wednesday night in Manistiquette after a complaint had been made by operators of the Blue Roof cabins in Escanaba that they had been "taken" for $400. A merchant at Harris is also reported to have lost $200, and a Gladstone man lost $130.

When arrested the two couples had over $1,100 in cash in their possession. Sheriff and state police officers expressed the belief that additional complaints from victims in Wisconsin and perhaps in Michigan may be received. The four are being held in jail in Escanaba for further identification.

Undersheriff Frederickson said that Sheriff Ed Reindl of Menominee telephoned yesterday to ask continued detention of the four until a warrant could be issued charging them with trafficking in illegal game devices in that county. Powers community is in Menominee county.

The couples traveled in two cars and were reported by officers to be former carnival show people. With the Hendersons was their four-year-old daughter, who was expected to be brought from Manistiquette to Escanaba yesterday at the request of the mother. Mrs. Henderson said they were on their way to their home in Paris, Texas.

Thomas Henderson, the husband and father, is seriously ill and yesterday was attended several times by physicians. He told officers that he was accustomed to taking five grains of morphine four times daily.

Child Hit By Car Escapes With Only Minor Head Injury

Michael Lynaugh, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynaugh, 1325 North 22nd street, received a bump on the head but was otherwise uninjured late Thursday afternoon when he was struck by a car driven by Andrew Cretens, 1401 North 22nd street, near the intersection of Washington and 15th Avenue north.

Cretens, who took the boy to a doctor, said the youngster darted into the road from behind the Dagenais store and he was unable to avoid striking him.

REVIVE THE PUBLIC STOCKS

Petty thievery seems to be on the increase in Escanaba and throughout the nation. The offenders are minors, some of them little more than mere children. Sorry as we are to acknowledge it, the situation has become so bad in Escanaba that one doesn't feel safe anywhere or at any time.

I am not aware of the basis for the actions of law enforcement agencies handling these cases of petty thievery. But there seems to be a concerted effort on the part of the law enforcement agencies to shield both the offenders and their parents or guardians from any light of publicity. Names are seldom mentioned in the newspaper reports when the offenders are apprehended, and more often than not some sob-sister or brother will seek to intercede for the offender and thus obstruct justice.

However this practice of dealing leniently with offenders seems to be getting us nowhere fast. Instead of creating a better youth and a safer community we are going from bad to worse. And the result? Well Charles J. Dutton has recently pointed out that "the young desperadoes of today" will be "Tomorrow's Gangsters."

Now my suggestion is that we revive the public stocks. A reprimand should be given kids and parents for the first offense, but a public display of both parents and kids who are second and third offenders should exert a healthy influence upon the culprits. Perhaps the threat of such punishment would put the fear of God into the kids, and it ought to make parents realize that when they begot children they also beget the responsibility to bring those children up to become law abiding citizens. Twelve hours in the stocks on the public square would perhaps help bring home the seriousness of violating the commandment, "Thou shalt not steal."

Another Burglary Is Cleared Up By Youth's Confession

Another of the few unsolved burglaries of downtown stores here about a month ago was cleared up yesterday by the admission of a 15-year-old boy that he entered the Swanson service station, corner of Ludington and Eighth street, on June 22 and took $33 from a cash drawer.

The boy is one of the pair police picked up this week in connection with two other recent robberies the boys admitted. They broke into the Delta Baking company last Sunday and stole a wrist watch and a pair of gloves and on July 3 took $49 from the LeCaptain store on Stephenson avenue.

Both of the boys are on probation from a state industrial school for juvenile delinquents.

Permits For Home, New Filling Station Approved By City

Construction of a new dwelling here by John Wolkenhauer at the corner of 16th street and Seventh avenue south at an estimated cost of $6,000 and a new gasoline service station by Clarence Cartwright, 1406 N. 22nd street, at a cost of $500 are authorized by building permits recently issued by the city.

Other permits just approved are for a new basement in the dwelling of Lester Paulin, 224 N. 20th street; a garage to be built by R. J. Kennelly, 315 North 18th street, at a cost of $100; a new floor to be constructed in the Smith building, 1223 First avenue north, by J. E. Pryal.

Sanitary Sewer Job Will Be Completed Soon; Begin Another

A sanitary sewer project on Fifth avenue south between 21st and 23rd streets, interrupted late last year because of freezing ground water, will be completed late next week, City Manager Art Aronson said yesterday.

Work will begin on a similar project between 16th and 18th Avenues south just west of Lake Shore Drive as soon as the Fifth avenue job is completed. The project involves about a week's work.

THE LAMPREY TRAP—Walter Burns, former mayor of Manistique, devised a trap which proved to be effective in trapping the predator sea lamprey. Examining the trap, located at the spillway of the log pond at the Manistique Paper mill, is Stanley Shust, superintendent of the state fish hatchery at Thompson. Two eels which have been caught in the trap are being lifted out by Shust. (Verne Linderorth Photo.)

THE LAMPREY EEL—Equipped with a round mouth and a circle of teeth, the sea lamprey attaches itself to fish and sucks their blood. Latest threat to Great Lakes fisheries, the lamprey worked its way to the lakes from the ocean, causes damage estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars each year. The two pictured above were taken from a trap on the Manistique river. (Verne Linderorth Photo.)

Ask Bean Pickers To Register Here

There is need of 100 persons 12 years of age and over to pick beans in Delta county starting within the next week or two, B. B. Loveland, emergency farm labor leader, said yesterday.

Persons wishing to engage in such work this summer are asked to register at the office of the county agricultural agent in the court house. There are now about 50 registrations but about 100 more are needed.

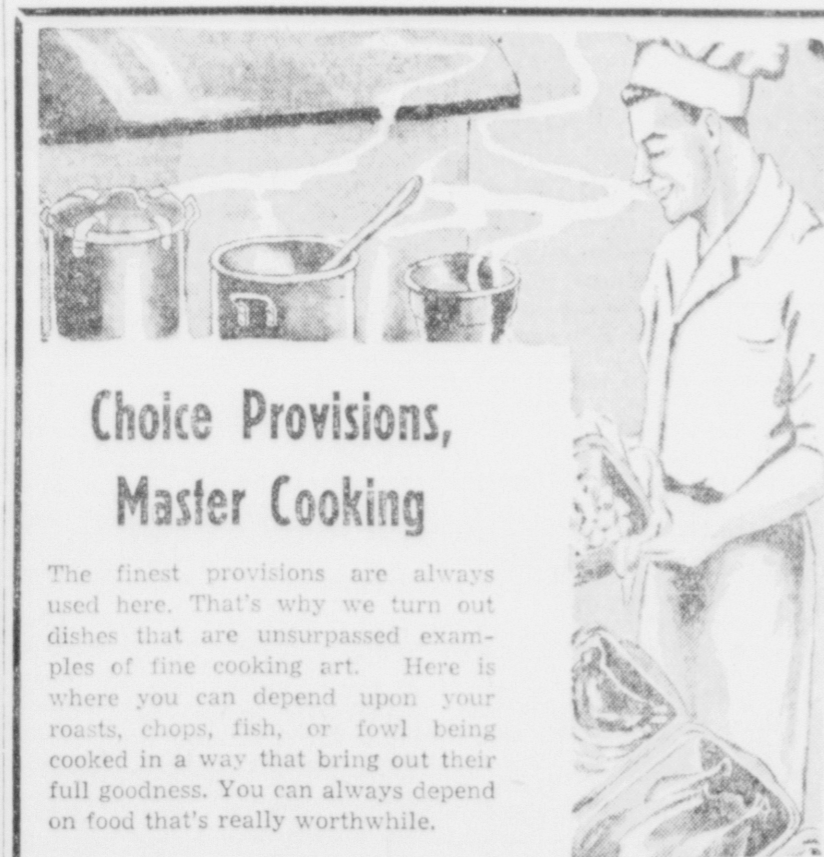

Bean pickers are paid 1½ cents a pound for wax beans, and 2 cents a pound for green beans. Transportation is provided from the city to the fields, and the farmer provides the return transportation to the city.

Without such additional help the bean crop cannot be harvested in the county this year. There are about 100 acres planted to beans in the county for commercial canning purposes.

Examinations For Firemen Operators To Be Given By City

Applications are being received now at the city hall for Escanaba residents interested in an examination the city will hold sometime next month for firemen operators. Object of the civil service examination is to create an eligibility list for operators. The job pays a starting salary of $133 a month.

Application blanks and detailed information are available at the city manager's office.

Sea Lamprey Eradication Promises To Be Big Job

National legislation directing the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service to undertake a 10-year program to rid the Great Lakes of the voracious sea lamprey seems assured, yet that department frankly admits that for the present it has no practical program which will assure the extermination of the invader that is raising havoc with commercial fishing.

At Manistique, Walter Burns, former mayor, devised a trap which has proved to be very effective in trapping the creatures. The trap consist of a sheet-metal trough placed at the spillway of the log pond of the Manistique paper mill on the Manistique river.

One end of the trough is an inch or so above water over a tub, and the other end is submerged in the sewer opening that empties into the river below the dam. The lampreys swim up the sewer, up the trough and fall into the iron drum where they are trapped.

Many thousands of them have been caught in this manner. Some days the tub had to be emptied as many as eight times. This was during the spawning season in May and June. Very few are caught now.

The lamprey eel has a round sucker mouth armed with teeth. Once fastened on a hapless fish—usually the Great Lakes trout—the lamprey sucks the blood of the fish and hangs on until the fish dies or until the lamprey has had its fill. Lacking gills, the lamprey has a series of holes on each side of the neck starting about an inch from the mouth. These holes are the lamprey's breathing apparatus.

Although "lamprey marks"—scars where the lamprey has been attached—are found on other fish, the lake trout seems to be the favored host and fishermen fear that the dwindling catches of this valuable fish indicates its virtual extermination if the lamprey menace is not abated. Whitefish and suckers also are often attacked.

The sea lamprey grows from 14 to 30 inches long and came to the Great Lakes up the St. Lawrence. They were reported in Lake Ontario many years ago. When the Welland canal was built around Niagara Falls the pests worked their way into Lake Erie, where they were first reported in 1921. Since then they have been found in all of the upper lakes except Superior, and it is believed there is no way they can be kept out of that lake.

Juvenile Delinquency

IN A communication published in this issue of the Daily Press, Rev. Karl Hammar, of Escanaba, calls attention to a serious problem in the community, the rising incidence of juvenile delinquency. The problem is not Escanaba's alone. It is a national problem, perhaps the most critical domestic problem confronting the nation today. Juvenile delinquency has been increasing at an appalling rate. Undoubtedly the war has had a deleterious effect, lowering the moral standards of the people. In the industrial areas, the war production centers, many mothers went into factories to help produce the arms of war without providing adequate arrangements for the rearing of their children. The drafting of fathers made this necessary in many instances. In others, the opportunity for big wages was sufficient in itself to lure mothers from their prime responsibility of building a home for their children.

We are paying the penalties today in the frightening increase in child delinquency. Petty thievery is mounting. The moral standards of an alarming segment of youth has broken down.

In his communication Rev. Hammar points a finger of criticism at the policy of this newspaper in refraining from publishing the names of juveniles who have been arrested in petty crimes. It is a policy of long standing and one which, we believe, provides an opportunity for teenagers to find the errors of their ways and to straighten themselves out, eventually to become good citizens of the community. It is a policy in which experts in child psychology almost unanimously concur. Moreover, the record proves that the policy had paid substantial dividends over the years. Far better it is to lend a helping hand to a youngster in distress and assist him to become a good citizen than to present him to public ridicule because his immature mind has led him off the path of righteousness.

It is because experience has shown that this policy, in the long run, has benefited both the individuals concerned and the general public that we adhere to it. It is for this reason also that we most sincerely oppose the suggestion of Rev. Hammar that the public stocks with all their cruelties be revived as a means of combating juvenile delinquency.

No Loan to Russia

THE billion dollar loan to Russia is dead for this year, President Truman revealed at his press conference Thursday. It is well that no legislation will be presented to the American congress in this session for a loan to Russia. The proposal is unjustified and would not have even a meager chance of approval. Its presentation would only serve as a medium for the Communists in this country to sound off on their propaganda line and of course, its inevitable rejection would further widen the chasm that exists now between Russia and the United States. It is unthinkable that the American people would reach into their purses for a billion dollars to give to a Russian government that is so antagonistic to our economic and political viewpoint, and so uncooperative with our efforts to write a just and lasting peace.

Screw Election Laws

THE election of Gene Talmadge as governor of Georgia under a peculiar election system which is not based upon the popular vote in that state shows the need for election reforms not only in the south, but on a national level, as well. Gov. Talmadge did not receive the greatest number of votes in the Georgia primary election but he did receive almost twice as many "county unit" votes as the second candidate. In other words, the majority of the people of Georgia would have preferred another man for their governor, but were denied that privilege due to the peculiar election system in that state.

If that situation seems a little bit screwy, you may recall that we elect the president of the United States on an election system that is just as screwy. Just as Georgia elected a governor who failed to receive the popular vote, we may elect a president who fails to receive the majority of the votes of the American people. That is because of the electoral college system, which automatically gives the Democratic candidate a large block of electoral votes in the so-called Solid South.

True democracy dictates the necessity of abolishing the electoral college to guarantee that the will of the American people will always govern the election of the president of the United States.

An Ill-Advised Scheme

THE proposal of the CIO executive board for a conference of labor and industry to consider immediate wage increases in view of rising prices is ill-advised and a serious inflationary threat. If there is any one thing certain about the present unsettled condition of the nation's economy, it is simply that further wage increases must be avoided at all costs. The current skyrocketing of prices has developed to no small degree as a result of the large general wage boosts that were effected early this year under the sponsorship of the Truman administration. Further wage increases now would serve only to boost prices again by a comparable degree.

Other ways must be found to meet the rising cost of living. We are already in the midst of a dizzy spiral that would certainly be accentuated by further wage increases.

Experience has shown that in an inflationary spiral that gets out of control, it is utterly impossible to maintain wage rates at the pace of rising prices. It would be foolhardy to think that we can lick inflation by providing additional inflationary pressures, such as would inevitably follow general wage boosts in that nation. The answer is to hold the wage line and to beat prices down to a level consistent with the average family income.

CONGRESSMEN AND CONTRACTS (Christian Science Monitor)

Several angles of the Mead Committee's investigation of war profiteering should be relentlessly explored. The public should insist on vigorous exposure both of profiteers and of their political partners.

There is some danger that Congressmen will try to head off the latter line of investigation. This is shown in the measure of sympathy and support given in the House of Representatives to Andrew J. May's claim that he is being persecuted in connection with his activities on behalf of the Garsson companies. It is indicated also by the fact that the committee originally allowed Mr. May to testify in secret, apparently for his protection not that of military information.

Mr. May's explanations so far are far from satisfying. We trust the chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee will seek or will be required to be much more explicit about his efforts to influence Army officers—who were well aware of his power over the War Department—to award war contracts to his firms.

Congressmen quite often helped firms in their districts to obtain war orders. In many cases this was a legitimate service, simply putting the Army or Navy into touch with plants badly needed for specific jobs. In such cases Congressmen should not fear investigation. And if there were many who went beyond that, the country ought to know about it.

As a matter of fact, it would be a healthy thing if the public became a bit more aware of the business or professional interests which some Congressmen pursue on the side. A more meticulous standard of ethics about this sort of thing should be established. Aside from what further value may come out of following up the May case, we hope the inquiry will dig deep.

FAR CRY FROM HORSECARS (Christian Science Monitor)

Just as the electric interurban railway gave way to motor coaches, streetcars are gradually yielding to buses or trackless trolleys. The Public Administration Clearing House in Chicago reports that 130 cities over 25,000 are now served exclusively by the rubber-tired vehicles.

In some ways this is progress, but no surface-operated mass carrier has equalled the streetcar for efficient and quick transportation during city rush hours. Moreover, the fact that a number of traction companies continue to order the fast, quiet, well-lighted so-called Presidents' Conference Committee cars indicates that the companies, as well as their patrons appreciate them.

Trolley coaches have the same mobility as the gasoline-operated bus. Moreover, they are quiet and the new type are as comfortable as the P. C. C. cars, with a capacity of 85 persons. New York's Board of Transportation has announced bids for 435 silent electric trolleys for Brooklyn.

Such luxury is a far cry from the horsecars Grandfather used to ride in, with one or two smoky kerosene lamps and straw on the floor in winter to keep the passengers' feet warm!

Getting down to earth is one of the best ways to get at the root of things.

HERE'S HOW THEY TALK (Radio Speech Portrait No. 39)

Lord Halifax

Voice, baritone, low in pitch, and of a rather cavernous quality. Judged by American standards, it is a voice that is not well-suited to radio. It may be noted in passing, however, that educated Englishmen generally have voices that "mike" pleasantly, although English intonation is quite unlike the American. The Briton employs a far wider range, and speaks with a rising inflection. The American speech-tone is more level and matter-of-fact. It has a monotonous sound to British ears.

Enunciation, careful and quite distinct. Style, The viscount's speech pattern is very much old-school-tie. That is to say, he speaks with what is called the Oxford accent. However, as my notes reveal, his speech is far less Oxonian than it was at the beginning of his five-year residence in the United States.

Lord Halifax (Edward Frederick Lindley Wood) labors heavily before the microphone. His breathing is stentorian, he snorts frequently, his "s's" whistle, and he has a habit of swallowing audibly between sentences. All this is magnified by

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington — A few potent lobbyists have succeeded in creating a lot of unnecessary confusion over the question of patents on atomic energy devices. The atomic energy bill as adopted unanimously by the senate seemed to take care of the matter in the only practical and logical way.

That is, it did until the lobbyists began to work their spell in closed meetings of the House Military Affairs committee. Invoking the magic words "Private Enterprise," these special pleaders overlooked the fact that an atomic energy patent could lead to one big monopoly wrapping up all the industry of this country. Surely, "Private Enterprise" could not be stretched to cover such an outcome.

The patent provisions in the atomic energy bill as passed by the senate forbid any private patents in the production of fissionable material or in atomic weapons. That is hardly open to challenge, since the atomic energy commission will have the sole right to produce fissionable material and will also have exclusive control over all atomic weapons.

BROAD LICENSING—

The differences begin over the provisions for patents on devices using fissionable material. The McMahon bill specifies that any one taking out such a patent must license it for use to any and all applicants. A board to be named by the atomic energy commission would supervise these licenses and the compensation coming from them.

It is here, according to the eloquent special pleaders, that "Private Enterprise" gets its toes stepped on. But before this argument is taken too seriously, it would be well to consider what would happen without such a provision.

Suppose, for example, the Pennsylvania railroad were to announce that it had moved a train of freight cars from New York to Washington with an engine powered by atomic energy. And suppose experts for the railroad were able to show that, in full operation, the atomic energy engine would cost about one-tenth as much as a coal or oil-burning engine.

No crystal gazing is required to see what this would mean. It would mean that, if one railroad had an exclusive patent on such a device, every other railroad would face the choice of going bankrupt within a short time or selling out to the patent holder.

The same thing would happen if one of the automobile companies got an exclusive patent on an atomic energy motor which would operate at a small fraction of the cost of operating a gasoline motor. Any real competition would be out the window and we would have one giant corporation making all motor cars.

In addition, it's important to realize that the fissionable material for use in the engine on which one company had an exclusive patent would come only from the atomic energy commission. In effect, that would put the government in partnership with a monopoly—and a monopoly more powerful than any one ever dreamed of. If we are to continue to have a democracy, that would be politically impossible.

SAFEGUARD PROPOSED—

When the McMahon bill was before the senate atomic energy committee, Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan suggested a wise provision, which was inserted. It is as follows: "No license for any manufacture or use shall be issued by the commission until after a report with respect to such manufacture or use has been filed with the congress; and a period of 90 days in which the congress was in session has elapsed after the report has been so filed."

The purpose is to give congress time to decide whether special legislation is necessary in the face of a patent that might revolutionize industry and upset the whole system of values on which the nation's wealth is based. That is a further safeguard against any abuse of the patent privilege.

Power means concentration. It means a centrifugal pull toward monopoly. The development of the steam engine and, with it, of the railroads brought a degree of economic concentration—and as a result, political concentration—such as no one had ever conceived before. We are still seeing the centralizing effect of the internal combustion engine.

Atomic energy cannot be treated as though it were just another device. It carries with it a threat of dictatorship as absolute as its power is absolute. Back of the senate bill was the impressive record of study that eleven senators gave to the new force. Any innovations or additions to that bill are likely to endanger the chances for successful control of atomic energy under our democratic system.

The incredibly sensitive American microphone and receiving set. The resulting huff-puff makes him pretty hard to listen to.

Pronunciation, strictly British. Unlike Churchill, Lord Halifax did not pick up any Americanisms while in this country. If Winnie had lived here for five years, I believe he would have taken a good brand of American speech back to the isles with him. Not so, the viscount. This is not said in criticism, however, any more than I should criticize an American for retaining the American flavor of his speech after visiting England. As a matter of fact, Lord Halifax observed in his farewell talk, that there are great differences in the languages of England and America, as well as in racial composition and customs.

Score: Voice, 15; enunciation, 23; style, 10; pronunciation, 25 (according to British standards). Total, 73. Rating, fair.

Next week, summary of Speech Portraits to date. Your nominations are invited.

"May I Hover Around a Bit, as a Warning, Perhaps?"

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

THE FIRST HERE — The ore carrier W. G. Mather of the Cleveland Cliffs company pulled in to the C&N.W. ore docks at Escanaba last Monday for loading. The ship had been here before and dock hands saw nothing unusual about her except a rather large screen affair mounted atop her mast.

Yet the Mather was making Great Lakes history. She is one of the first ships to be equipped with radar, and two Westinghouse company engineers were aboard making the installation, which costs about $7,500 per vessel.

EYES OF RADAR — The use of radar in wartime is a story often told. The application of radar to peacetime service is now beginning, and its first tests are on ships plying the Great Lakes. Radar provides the ships with "all weather eyes" capable of "seeing" through dense fog and blinding snow.

Early this month, following a demonstration of radar in a boat trip along the Detroit river, shipping executives forecast a new era in Great Lakes shipping. Annually thousands of valuable shipping hours are lost because of slower speeds necessary during fog, snow storms and in the nighttime. With radar other ships, both large and small, buoys and even debris for miles around, are easily located on the screen of the instrument. Greater safety, greater economy and speedier service will be assured shipping when radar becomes its guiding eye.

SIMPLE MATTER — Sailing a ship by radar is quite a simple matter, according to a report in the Bulletin, issued by the Lake Carriers Association. They predict that you will have the opportunity of witnessing radar-guided ships on the Great Lakes before long.

You stand in the pilot house before a gray metal box that resembles a binocular. A twist of one of its knobs starts the radar operating. In about three minutes—allowed for warm-up—everything for miles around becomes part of the black and white picture beginning to glow on the PPI—meaning "plan position indicator."

LIKE A MAP — The PPI looks like a glass disc some seven inches in diameter. It occupies the central position on the face of the radar control box.

Watching it is like looking down at a map, with your ship showing up as a white dot in the center. The black areas surrounding it are water, while the land and other solid objects appear white.

As you look, a thin blue shaft of light sweeps around the picture like a radius rotated clockwise from the white dot indicating your vessel's position at the center.

As it moves, it constantly wipes out the old picture and leaves a new one showing the relative change of positions. The blue shaft of light matches the swing of the radar antenna mounted high on the vessel's mast. The antenna itself emits a pulsating beam of high energy that, although invisible, acts much like a powerful searchlight.

IMAGES REFLECTED — As the beam skims over the water, the solid objects above its surface re-

10 Years Ago—1936

Att'y. H. J. Rushton, state senator from the thirtieth Michigan district for six years and one of the most widely known Republicans in the state, yesterday consented to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman from the eleventh district of Michigan.

Lt. and Mrs. Owen Taggart of Gladstone are the parents of a son, born July 16 at St. Francis hospital.

A daughter was born July 17 at St. Francis hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Albert French, 807 North 18th street.

Fire, which started about five o'clock yesterday afternoon, destroyed the Groos store, a dairy barn filled with hay, a milk house and two chicken coops owned by Jacob Groos. The damages were estimated at about $15,000 and are partly covered by insurance.

Sault Ste. Marie—Padlock injunctions against eleven places in the Upper Peninsula where it is alleged illicit liquor was dispensed, were granted in federal court here today, as an outgrowth of an investigation into operations of alleged bootleggers in the district.

The Rev. J. Crippen Evans of Havre, Mont., has accepted a call to be rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church here, it was announced yesterday by officers of the vestry of the local congregation.

Police declared last night that they expected to arrest today the person responsible for the poisoning of more than a dozen dogs in the city.

Mrs. L. P. Treiber took first place honors in the women's handicap golf tournament held at the local country club on Tuesday afternoon with a score of 37.

SEE DRIFT WOOD — Its accuracy is remarkable. The flick of a switch on the control pedestal cuts the range scale down to intensive coverage of everything within a mile and a half of your vessel. A sea gull flying over the after-deck appears as a pinpoint flash. Even drift wood has shown up well enough to be recognized.

Of course, you can't read the name on approaching vessel, but you can see her clearly enough to plot her course as she moves, whether the weather is foul or whether it's high noon or midnight.

"SEE" 50 MILES — If you're out on the lake and want to have a look at what's going on within 50 miles or so, another twist of the control steps the radar range up through a sequence of three or four scales to its maximum.

The first such equipment on Great Lakes vessels was installed April 24 aboard the John T. Hutchinson. Others include the Ernest T. Weir and the George F. Rand. Other sets are scheduled to be installed, but strikes and shortages have caused a delay.

To adapt its aids to navigation for a more effective use of radar on the lakes, the Coast Guard has an experimental program under way. Radar lighthouses, known as "raymark", may be installed to supplement present beacons.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington — The Ku Klux Klan has just issued a "fiery summons" to all Klansmen in Atlanta demanding that members meet immediately in extraordinary konklave. The summons is on a piece of paper about as big as a police summons. In the background is the red figure of a hooded Klansman, and under the heading, "Solomon summons of the fiery cross," appears the following message:

"You are hereby seriously summoned to be and appear at an extraordinary konklave. Nothing but a providential hindrance can legally justify your failure to be present. Duty, with all the justice of her unquestionable authority, calls. The call is imperative!"

"By mandate of his Lordship The Imperial Wizard."

As a result of this summons, special KKK meetings have been held in Atlanta, attended by more than the usual number of Klansmen. Two questions have been discussed: (1) What strategy to adopt for the Atlanta visit of this columnist on July 21; and (2) Raising funds to hire lawyers to prevent revocation of the Klan's charter.

At the instruction of hard-hitting Governor Ellis Arnall, Georgia's Attorney General Eugene Cook has brought an action against the Klan to revoke its charter. Also at the instance of Governor Arnall, this columnist will deliver a radio broadcast from the steps of the State Capitol on Sunday.

NO CONGRESSMAN IS GUILTY—

The case of Andrew Jackson May and his backstage wire-pulling for war profiteers illustrates two defects in our politico-congressional system which sooner or later must be cured.

1. The almost-life-or-death power of the chairman of any congressional committee over executive branches of the government.

2. The fact that certain congressional districts are so dominated by political bosses that no matter what a man does in Washington he can't be defeated for reelection at home.

Congressman May comes from a district in the Kentucky mountains, many of whose people now regard him as something of a hero. They believe that Jack May can do no wrong. Prior to Mr. May's incumbency, his district sent a Republican, John Langley to congress. He landed in jail for bootlegging. But even after he had been convicted, Langley was re-elected to Congress. And when it became clear that Langley could not adequately represent his district while behind bars, his loyal constituents sent his wife to congress instead.

From Boston, Rep. James Curley, another Democrat, served in congress for some time while under indictment. Finally, when he was convicted for war frauds, Curley was carried through the streets of Boston on the shoulders of cheering admirers.

In Georgia, not long ago, the justice department attempted to convict Congressman Frank Wheelock for selling postmasterhips, but a local jury refused to convict. Later when the justice department discovered that Congressman Gene Cox, also of Georgia, had been paid for lobbying against the government, the attorney general, deciding no local jury would convict, brought no prosecution.

MOST CONGRESSMEN ARE HONEST—

In the whole history of the United States only one senator has been convicted for lobbying for profit against his government—Senator Joseph R. Burton, a Republican from Kansas. Yet newsmen and others who watch the capital close up know of cases where unscrupulous congressmen have taken money for working against the federal government.

Actually, the great majority of congressmen are absolutely honest. This writer, who has seen something of foreign parliaments, from the chamber of deputies in Paris to the Schupstina in Belgrade, is convinced that, outside the British empire, no other group of legislators are so honest personally as the American congress. Misguided and frequently wrong they may be, but most of them are honest.

Yet, it is a few bad apples in the congressional barrel that poisons the reputation of the rest.

That is why this column has urged that congressmen register their business transactions, their purchases on the stock market, their speculations in rye, silver and cotton, and the chief clients of their law firms with the securities and exchange commission. Wall Street is now required to register with the SEC. Every corporation is required to disclose its major salaries to the SEC. Equally important is the need for our legislators, most of whom have nothing to hide, to disclose their non-government business connections.

Had Congressman May registered with the SEC his connection with the mysterious Erie Basin Lumber company; had he registered the fact that he was president of the Greenbrier Manganese Mining company at the time it was seeking a war contract, then the public could have had a chance to judge for itself whether its interest or May's interest was being seized.

Foot Protectors Keep Shoes Neat

Wearing foot protectors—stockings minus legs—when you disperse with hosiery is a summer must for good grooming. These cotton, rayon or nylon foot coverings make feet feel better by keeping soles from contact with clammy shoe linings. "The protectors shield shoes from perspiration and dirt which bare feet bring in, an important consideration when you remember how necessary it is to safeguard hard-to-get footwear."

You wouldn't think any woman would go into a shoe store and thrust a bare foot upon a stool to be fitted, would you? Yet shoe salesmen say that there are women who do. Rightfully, of course, a salesman can refuse to fit a customer who shows so little consideration for the niceties of good grooming and for the store's merchandise. But when he has to refuse, he's put on a spot, and there's no need—now that pedal coverings are more available—for a woman to bring embarrassment upon either the salesman or herself.

Business Begins

Formal opening of the Twenty-Sixth Annual Convention of the Upper Peninsula Association of American Legion Posts was pronounced at 10 o'clock Friday morning by Dr. A. R. Tucker of Manistique, association president.

The action was somewhat of a formal gesture as the convention is not due to get down to serious business until Saturday.

Short talks were made by "Chris" Christensen, chairman of the Michigan Legion poppy department, and by Mrs. W. O. Benjamin, president of the Upper Michigan Legion Auxiliary. This was followed by announcement of committees to serve during the convention.

Mr. Christensen, in his talk, stressed the grave fact that approximately 44,000 veterans of World War I are patients in veteran hospitals throughout the country and that this is but a fraction of the number of World War II boys who are also patients or who are seeking treatment. He urged greater effort on the part of the American Legion in the matter of welfare and rehabilitation. He also suggested that the Legion go more than half way in cooperating with other veteran organizations in the promotion of Poppy Day and thus further the extension of the sale of veteran made poppies.

Mrs. Benjamin spoke in praise of what she preferred to call "Northern Michigan," and acknowledged for her organization the hospitality afforded by Manistique.

Later in the afternoon, a session devoted to Child Welfare was presented by Alice Ducharme.

A joint rehabilitation session was scheduled for the early evening and as a grand finale the 40 and 8 parade and wreck took off in a burst of wild excitement.

PLEDGE LARGE
LEGION CLASSTwo Hundred Veterans
Become Members Of Local Post

Veterans of World War II have a heritage of experience given them by the American Legion and veterans of World War I Carl O. Matheny, Michigan Department commander of the American Legion, stated in the course of an address at Hall Stadium following the initiation into the organization of 200 members Thursday evening.

Veterans of World War I had no such a guide when they returned to civilian life and many serious mistakes were made. Thanks to this experience, veterans of World War II are being cared for through the G. I. Bill of Rights—a measure which never could have been made possible without the good offices of the American Legion, he said.

Commander Matheny added that while the welfare of the veteran is the primary consideration of the American Legion, it should also be considered a vital force for Americanization and progress in every community in which there is a Legion post.

He urged the incoming members to take an active part in Legion meetings and Legion projects.

The initiation, which served as the opening event in the four day convention was an impressive ceremony in which a degree team from Menominee conducted the ceremony.

Lowell Hebbard, Manistique post commander elect, opened the meeting and turned the services over to the Menominee group which administered the pledge and exemplified the work.

Following the initiation work the evening was given over to welcoming of visiting Legionnaires and Auxiliary members at the Elks temple where the place was given over for a convention frolic.

"The Cat
Comes

C is for Cat—remember? But that was when you learned your ABC's. In the new language of science, "Cat" is for catalyst—the material whose action is responsible for the production of so much high octane gasoline from a barrel of crude oil.

Shell scientists have devoted years to the development of better catalysts. Their latest achievement is to improve "cat's" behavior—instead of straying, their cat comes back producing more gasoline in the bargain.

In the end the benefit comes to you—who want only the finest when you stop at your service station and say "Fill 'er up." Out of our leadership in research has come a remarkable new Shell Gasoline. It has more power without knock, quicker starting, faster pickup and more mileage.

"Festal Dainties—"

Whittier, in his poem "Barefoot Boy" referred to bread and milk as "Festal Dainties," and he wasn't far wrong. Nothing goes so good these warm days as foods in which bread and milk are the principle items. What is more, for health's sake, you cannot beat bread and milk as basic foods.

Order that extra quart of milk today.

TIGERS RALLY AND WIN 10-5

Senators Take 5-0 Lead But Are Bowled Over By Bengal Spurt

Washington, July 19 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, once behind by 0-5, rallied to defeat the Washington Senators tonight 10-5, and give Pitcher Hal Newhouse his 18th victory.

Newhouse needed—and got—lots of help from the bats of Hank Greenberg and Birdie Tebbetts.

In the sixth, Greenberg banged a tremendous triple with the bases loaded to drive in three runs. A moment later, Tebbetts doubled home two runs that gave Detroit a 5-5 tie.

Tebbetts also got in the knock-out punch, a single with the bases filled in the eighth that sent Detroit ahead to stay.

Mickey Vernon, Washington first baseman, got four hits in five trips to the plate to take the league's batting lead from Boston's Ted Williams.

Baseball Players Will Get Voice In Framing New Contracts For '47

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY

Chicago, July 19 (AP)—In a revolutionary move to combat player dissatisfaction, professional baseball decided today to give players a voice in the framing of new contracts to be submitted for the 1947 season.

Commissioner Albert B. Chandler telegraphed each of the sixteen major league managers, asking him to name a playing representative of his club to meet in extraordinary session with the presidents of the National and American leagues July 29, an open date, in an effort to reach an understanding covering over-all player problems.

The eight American league players will meet with President William Harridge in Chicago, while the eight National leaguers will meet with President Ford Frick in New York on the same date.

"Baseball's steering committee, meeting here the last two days, discussed the whole future of the game," President Harridge explained. "We felt that if some revisions are to be made, it might be well to invite the players to contribute their views."

NO UNION NEEDED

New York, July 19 (AP)—Hailing baseball's new employer-employee arrangements as one of the most constructive steps ever taken by the game, President Larry MacPhail of the Yankees declared today he did not think that "we ever will have collective bargaining in baseball, as such."

As chairman of the club owners' special committee which announced at Chicago last night that the players would have full representation in drawing up a new contract for 1947, MacPhail expressed supreme confidence that the move would obviate any necessity for a players' union.

"I doubt that the players ever wanted a union, anyway," he said. "The average player is an individualist who wants to handle his own business. We are giving him that chance. There was unanimous opinion at Chicago that the player hereafter should have full representation in any question involving his welfare."

MacPhail disclosed that three player-spokesmen from each league would meet here on August 5 with the owners' special committee, including the two league presidents, to thresh out all debatable clauses in the player contract. He expressed confidence that a new document would be whipped into shape to present to a special joint meeting of the major leagues sometime before August 25.

BEARS READY FOR RANGERS

NWM Leaders Will Play At Escanaba Park Sunday

A 6 to 5 victory Wednesday night for Crystal Falls over Negaunee kept the Escanaba Bears in fourth place in the NWM league standings and a chance for the four-way league playoffs, but the Bears face the supreme test Sunday afternoon when they meet the league leading Iron Mountain Rangers at the City diamond in Escanaba.

To retain their hold on fourth place, the Escanaba club will have to upset the Rangers, headed by the hard hitting pitcher-slugger, Bud Herman, imported from Green Bay at the start of the season by Manager Jimmie Mancini.

Negaunee and the Iron Kings are both breathing down the necks of the Bears for the fourth place position in the league playoffs, each a half game behind with one game still to be made up.

Currently riding the crest of a victory streak, the Bears will be out to enhance their chance for a spot in the playoffs by trimming the Rangers, who are sporting an 8-3 record in the league. Iron Mountain defeated the Bears at Iron Mountain in June 9 by a 7 to 3 score. Herman, who flashed a tremendous speed ball in that game, racked up 15 strikeouts, but the Bears solved his delivery for eight hits in the last four innings.

The game is expected to draw the largest crowd of the season at the City diamond.

The pitching assignment for the Bears may not be determined until shortly before game time. Both Fitzpatrick, the southpaw, and Beck, the right hander, are in the peak of form and the selection for starting duty may depend upon which shows more stuff in their warmups Sunday.

gust 24. The U. P. tournament will be held at the state fair the following week.

Golf Title Taken By Sally Sessions; Miss Wall Beaten

Detroit, July 19 (AP)—Tanned and smiling Sally Sessions, Muskogean's leading lady of the golf courses, won the Michigan Women's championship today.

Playing a smooth and accurate game on the sun-baked Detroit Golf Club links, Miss Sessions defeated Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, five up at the 32nd, in the finals of the annual tournament.

After her triumph Miss Sessions announced she would enter the All-American tournament at Chicago starting Monday in a quest for the women's crown. The Michigan women's championship was her first in that play.

The 23-year-old veteran of tournament play, whose name has figured in many topflight national events for several years, stroked out a comparatively easy victory over Miss Wall, who was plainly tired after the first 18.

Troubled with her putter cost Miss Wall dearly. She was only one down after the first nine, but from then on to the finish frequent errors kept her in a jam.

The former Red Cross worker in the Philippines got away in good shape but blew on the second nine. She needed 41-45-86 on the opening round compared to Sally's consistent 40-40—80. Men's par for the course is 71.

Miss Wall fought determinedly right up to her last chance. When still five down, she won the 31st by sinking a four-foot putt as Miss Sessions two-putted and on the 32nd she missed a 20-footer by a hair as Miss Sessions birdied the hole to close out the match.

Actually, Miss Session's steady play won the match from the 14th through the 18th. She seized on openings given her when Miss Wall topped her shots and fired into traps.

Young Army Discharged Muzzles Bruins With Six Hits

Chicago, July 19 (AP)—The Boston Braves won their third straight series in the west by defeating the Chicago Cubs, 6-1, today for a 2-1 edge here after successive 3-1 triumphs in Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

Warren Spahn, young overseas army dischargee, allowed only six hits in gaining his second triumph.

Ray Sanders and Tommy Holmes paced Boston's 12 hit attack while sharing half the Braves' total with three hits apiece. Hank Wyse started for the Cubs, but exited during the Braves' three-run seventh. Russ Meers and Bill Fleming finished up after Wyse retired.

Two Seerey Homers Give Indians 6 to 1 Win Over Athletics

Philadelphia, July 19 (AP)—Pat Seerey of the Cleveland Indians hit his 15th and 16th home runs of the season tonight, one with the bases loaded in the fifth, to give the Indians a 6 to 1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics before 12,050.

Mel Harder, veteran right-hander pitched steady eight-hit ball to hang up his 214th major league victory.

Three runs in a seventh-inning spurt featured by Pee Wee Reese's triple with two men on sewed up the verdict.

Singles by Eddie Stanky and Augie Galan and a two-run homer by Dixie Walker gave the Brooks three scores in the third. After Ray Mueller's round tripper had tied the count in the fourth, Cincy opened up a one-run lead in the fifth.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Wisconsin has a North-South all-star football game, as does the state of Ohio, but C. E. Forsythe, state director of athletics in Michigan, says the Upper Peninsula cannot have an all-star football game. Despite Forsythe's opposition to the project, the plans for the game at Negaunee August 17 are going ahead. The coaches have been hired—Ronberg of Norway for the South and DeCook of Newberry for the North—and the invitation to players has been mailed out. Escanaba has three men invited to participate—Don Wickholm, Jack Finn and Don Scott. The latter will be unable to play, however, as he recently underwent a surgical operation.

Apparently on the theory that it is best to fight fire with fire, Coach Wassberg of Negaunee, director of the all-star game, has replied to C. E. Forsythe's circular letter to Upper Peninsula school authorities with a circular letter of his own. In his letter to superintendents and principals, Wassberg charged that Forsythe is conducting a program based upon vicious intimidation in his efforts to wreck the all-star game. To that charge, we can only say, "Amen, Amen." It is intimidation and Mr. Forsythe is doing a disservice to Upper Peninsula athletics by directing his considerable influence against the all-star game.

Recognizing the merits of the proposed all-star game, the City of Negaunee has stepped in to sponsor the event and has appointed Wassberg as director. This means, of course, that the prestige and support of a progressive Upper Peninsula city is behind the project, guaranteeing the financial support that is required. The tenacity and leadership that Wassberg has provided should assure the success of the venture if a reasonable amount of cooperation is provided by the football coaches of the area. Failure to give this cooperation means simply that henceforth they can expect complete domination of their athletic activities by the office of the state high school athletic association.

Expensive Harmon Rejected By Dons Of All-Americas

Los Angeles, July 19 (AP)—After several weeks of dickering, the Los Angeles Dons of the All-America football conference have withdrawn a contract offer to Tom Harmon, former Michigan star.

Dons' general manager Slip Madigan said simply: "We felt that Harmon has been away from football too long and also was too much interested in radio work to be worth the salary he requested." Madigan declined to say what that figure was, or how far apart the two parties were.

Madigan pointed out that Harmon had not played regularly since 1939, his last season at Michigan. The former Wolverine all-American, moreover, had a lengthy war service. Harmon, now resides here, intends to broadcast sports.

Harmon, technically, is still on the draft list of the Chicago Bears. The Dons' turnaround, however, pointed out, left the way clear for a possible transfer to the Bears' fellow national leaguers, the Los Angeles Rams.

First Place Tie Caused By Rain In National League

St. Louis, July 19. (AP)—Rain brought about a first place tie in the National league pennant race tonight by forcing a postponement of the St. Louis Cardinals-Philadelphia Phils arclight tilt at the end of three innings after the Brooklyn Dodgers had broken a six-game losing streak in an afternoon game at Cincinnati.

The postponement left the Cardinals and Dodgers with identical won and lost records of 50-34 and halted a scoreless mound dual between right-hander Hugh Mulcahy and the Cardinals' big question mark, Johnny Beazley, who had set the Phils down in order before the rains came.

WILD TILT LOST BY CHICAGO SOX

Boston Easy Victor, 9-2; 14 Players Banished For Heckling Ump

Boston, July 19 (AP)—The Red Sox romped to an easy 9 to 2 victory over the White Sox today in a wild game that saw 14 Chicago players banished for heckling an umpire's warning after a "dust off" pitch to Ted Williams.

Boston's win stretched their lead over the idle New York Yankees to 1 1/2 games.

Williams was forced to drop to the ground to escape a fast ball coming close to his head by Chicago pitcher Joe Haynes in the third inning, leading umpire-in-chief "Red" Jones to caution Haynes.

A chorus of yammering from the Chicago bench resulted in Jones ordering four White Sox players from the bench—Ralph Hodgins, Dario Lodigiani, Ed Smith and Bing Miller.

With the heckling persisted, 10 others were chased in the next inning, leaving only three men on the Chicago bench when the team was on the field—manager Ted Lyons, coach Mule Haas and the trainer.

Williams himself, showed no emotion. After picking himself up from the ground, he nonchalantly brushed off his uniform and they lined out a single. The Red Sox held the upper hand with Williams, as usual, the pacesetter, driving in the first two runs in the first inning with a double off the left field wall. Tom McBride walked to open the rally. Johnny Pesky singled. Don Dimaggio forced Pesky, but then Williams came through.

Red Ruffing Goes On Disabled List

New York, July 19 (AP)—The New York Yankees announced today that it had placed Charley "Red" Ruffing, its veteran right-hander, on the disabled list.

The move, automatically takes the 42-year old twirler off the Yankee roster for the next 60 days and reduces the Yanks' squad to 29, one under the maximum 30.

Ruffing suffered a split knee cap on his right leg while hurling against the Philadelphia Athletics at the Yankee stadium, June 29.

STORM WRECKS PLANE, 13 DEAD

Charred Bodies Found In Wheat Stubble Near Goodland, Kas.

Goodland, Kas., July 19 (AP)—The bodies of 10 passengers and three crew members were found today in the charred and scattered wreckage of a military transport plane which crashed and exploded last night during a severe storm which swept this western Kansas area.

Bodies had been hurled over a wide area around the scene of the crash in a wheat stubble field three miles west and a mile north of here. Clothing of 11 of them had been burned or blown off by the explosion.

The names of the victims were withheld pending notification of relatives.

The plane, a C47, en route from the Topeka, Kas., Army Air Base to the west coast on a regular ATC flight was reported missing last night. Watches on the bodies had stopped at 10:10, indicating that the crash took place about 9:10 p. m. Goodland is on Mountain Standard Time.

Farmers living in the vicinity reported a brilliant flash about that time last night, but presumed it was a bolt of lightning, which accompanied the storm. Nearest habitation is a farm house about a mile away.

Leaders Deadlocked In $10,000 Chicago Victory National

Chicago, July 19 (AP)—Professional E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., long absent from the winner's circle, and the current amateur sensation, handsome Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, deadlocked with three-under-par 68's for the 18-hole lead today in the $10,000 Chicago Victory National Golf Tournament.

Stranahan, winner of the Kansas City invitational last weekend, was the most consistent performer in a 72-player field which started over Medinah County Club's exacting par 71, 6,900-yard course with a pair of 34's.

Harrison, whose last major victory was the St. Paul Open last year, opened with a par-matching 36 and then zoomed over the final nine in 32, three under standard.

One stroke off the pace with 69's were U. S. Open Champion Lloyd Mangrum, ex-baseballer Sammy Byrd and Swinging Chick Harbert, a trio of professionals who all fiddled the tricky 18th hole for one-over-par fives.

Defending Champion Byron Nelson could do no better than 36-37-73, two over par, for a listing far down the get-away standings.

Ben Hogan, nation's leading money winner and co-favored with Nelson, was bracketed with eight players at 75 as he needed a 37 and 38 to finish Medinah's rambling No. 3 course.

Johnny Bulla, rangy Chicago professional who reeled off a five-under-par 137 in a 36-hole preliminary competition, slowed to a 37-34-71, a stroke behind sixth place Clayton Heafner, Charlotte, N. C., pro, who had 35-35-70.

Deadlocked at 71 with Bulla were Chicago's Al Huske (35-36), Dick Metz of Wilburton, Okla. (37-34) and Art Doering of Denver, Colo. (35-36).

Four strokes behind the co-leaders were Jim Forster of San Francisco (35-37), Fred Haas, Jr., New Orleans, (36-36), Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill. (36-36), Buck White, Greenwood, Miss. (37-35) and Johnny Palmer, Baden, N. C., (36-36).

Revolt In Bolivia Fatal To 100; Over 150 Others Wounded

Buenos Aires, July 19 (AP)—The La Plata radio of Sucre, Bolivia, said today that approximately 100 persons were killed and more than 150 wounded in a revolutionary attempt at La Paz yesterday which the Bolivian government reported was quelled within a few hours.

The broadcast said casualties included revolutionists and soldiers called in to put down the revolt.

Without mentioning casualties, the Bolivian embassy here announced tonight that the government of President Gualberto Villarroel had put down the second revolutionary action within five weeks by forcing surrender of a group of heavily armed students at the University of La Paz.

Priceless Property Stolen By Gestapo Restored By British

Lueneburg, Germany, July 19 (AP)—The British announced today that "millions of pounds worth of property, including jewels and negotiable bonds confiscated throughout Europe by the Gestapo," had been discovered last year in a house near Lueneburg.

A lengthy examination revealed the "almost priceless value," the announcement said. The Nazi loot was taken to Hannover to be returned to owners.

Men 19 To 29 Will Be Re-Examined For Draft In September

Lansing, July 19 (AP)—Cases of Selective Service registrants in the 19 to 29 age group were ordered re-examined today so that appeals for deferments may be processed in time to begin filling the next draft calls in September.

State Selective Service headquarters instructed local boards to limit occupational deferments to "those few" deemed "indispensable and irreplaceable to the national existence," plus farm laborers.

Registrants in the 19-29 age group previously found unfit for military service are to be reviewed carefully, the instructions said. Discharged veterans may be called back to duty if they spent less than six months in college, and exclusive of time in college, and had no overseas service before they were released.

Under new regulations, youths of 18 must register with their local boards even though they are not eligible for service until they reach 19, headquarters emphasized.

FIRED WORKERS WANT HEARING

Army Dismisses Five Under Law Barring Communists

Washington, July 19 (AP)—A hearing for five civilian employees dismissed from the Army's Aberdeen (Md.) Proving Grounds was demanded today by the president of their union.

A statement from Brig. Gen. Alfred B. Quinton Jr., commander of the proving ground, said at the same time that they have the right to appeal by July 26 but no such action has been taken.

Quinton's statement added that they were dismissed upon orders from the war department under a law which bars the employment of Communists or members of "an organization which has as one of its tenets the overthrow of the United States government."

Abram Flaxer, president of the CIO United Public Workers of America, declared that "the war department is attempting to create a scandalous 'spy scare' on the eve of the vote in the house on the bill determining the control of atomic energy." He also accused the department of "an all-out union-breaking campaign."

The day's debate on the atomic control bill brought an assertion by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) that "foreign spies" are operating at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and "the same thing has been going on" at Aberdeen.

Demand For Action On Army And Navy Merger Is Dropped

Washington, July 19 (AP)—Navy boosters ran up a victory flag today at word that President Truman has agreed to drop his demand for Congressional action this session on the Army-Navy merger.

"This is a big victory for the navy," commented Senator Robertson (R-Wyo.). He and other naval committee members have been backing the navy department in its long fight against consolidation with the war department in a single defense department with land, sea and air branches under one cabinet secretary.

News of the changed White House position came from Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) of the military committee, one of the leaders in the move for the single defense department plan.

Thomas said he had asked Senate Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) to get a "green light" for the merger bill at the Monday conference of Congressional leaders with the President.

PICKETS CALLED OFF
Jackson (AP)—CIO and AFL officials here agreed Friday to call off all picket lines around grocery stores and meat markets.

The officials said they will meet Monday with officers of the Jackson Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers Association to work out a joint plan for combatting high food prices. First objective, they said, will be meat. Later a campaign will be directed against high cost dairy products and other goods.

Equal Rights Bill For Women Beaten In Senate, 38 to 35

Washington, July 19 (AP) The proposed constitutional amendment to guarantee equal rights to women, introduced in congress annually since 1928, came to its first vote today—and lost.

The senate voted 38 to 35 in favor of submitting it to the states, but a two-thirds majority was required.

With both political parties on record in favor of the amendment, the vote found 15 Democrats for it and 24 against; 23 Republicans for it and 10 against. The other negative vote was by Senator LaFollette (Prog.-Wis.).

The action kills the proposal for this session of congress but it may be brought up again anytime in the future.

Opponents told the senate it would throw into chaos state laws which give special protection to women in support, alimony and working conditions.

Backers of the amendment argued that it is the logical step to follow woman's suffrage and that the constitution should recognize equality of both sexes under the law.

Deal Island, Md., July 19 (AP)—While horrified friends and relatives watched, pretty Pansy Twigg, 20, was shot twice today, carried out into the Chesapeake Bay and held under water, then carried back on shore, where a third shot was fired into her body, State and Somerset county police reported.

Deputy County Sheriff Woodland Jackson and State Trooper J. J. Harbaugh drove Ross J. Abbott, 30, star veteran, to a Salisbury hospital later for treatment of a gunshot wound in his throat and chin.

The deputy sheriff and Harbaugh said that Abbott admitted killing the girl in a fit of jealousy.

No charges had been preferred against Abbott tonight.

GRAND MARAIS IS FIELD SITE

To Be Link In Canadian Airline Route From Toronto

Munising—Grand Marais has been tentatively chosen as one of the two intermediate landing areas and radio ranges for the Fort William-Toronto Airways, it was announced yesterday (Friday) by Frank G. Lappas, of the Civil Aeronautics Association, engineer in charge of the survey work being done now at the proposed Grand Marais airfield site.

The Canadian passenger airline is planning two points in the United States which will furnish landing strips and radio ranges for their line. The airline, which begins in Toronto, will follow across to touch the present facilities at Sault Ste. Marie, then Grand Marais, on across to Houghton and again into Canada to Fort Williams.

Installation of the two airstrips in Northern Michigan come under a co-ordinated plan between Canada and the United States in which funds are made available to improve air travel across the Northern United States and Southern Canada, helping both Canada and the United States. The Houghton airport will be the first radio range out of Fort Williams and Grand Marais the next, with Sault Ste. Marie facilities the next link on the trip to Toronto.

The airstrip at Grand Marais, to be located about five miles southeast of that town, takes in an area about a mile square, and will be made up of two landing strips about 3-4 of a mile each in length and will have a radio range finding station, the survey shows.

WAR PROFITS INQUIRY CALLS FOR REP. MAY

committee voluntarily during the day and denied under oath that they gave the munitions firms any assistance. They were the Senate and House Democratic leaders, Senator Barkley (Ky) and Rep. McCormack (Mass.), and Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) of the House rules committee. Former Rep. Dickstein (D-N. Y.) filed a similar denial by telegram from Lake Placid, N. Y.

Mrs. Jean Bates, former secretary in the combine's Washington office, has testified of telephone calls to or from the congressmen's offices.

Barkley and McCormack said they personally had no dealings with the munitions makers. Sabath said he was "guilty" of sitting in pinch games with two of them, Joseph Freeman and Murray Garson.

While Sabath was on the stand, Senator Brewster (R-Me.), dipped into previously undisclosed testimony in secret session which indicated that the first meeting between Henry Garson, one of the chief promoters of the combine, and A. B. Gellman, president of Erie, was in Sabath's office in the capitol.

LAVISH PARTY GIVEN
New York, July 19 (AP)—The Daily News says in a copyrighted story that Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky) and several high ranking army officers whose names have been linked with the Garson munitions combine in testimony before the Senate war investigating committee attended a lavish party at the Hotel Pierre January 2, 1944, given by Murray W. Garson.

The News, which printed 10 pictures of the sumptuous affair, says the party was arranged to celebrate the marriage of Garson's daughter, Natalie Garson Kaye, to Major Louis Herman Klebenov, of the Chemical Warfare Service.

The News says that among those present were Maj. Gen. William N. Porter, then chief of the Chemical Warfare Service, and as such Klebenov's superior officer; Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitte, Porter's successor as chief of the CWS; Albert W. Jacobson, civilian consultant in the legal division of the CWS; and Brig. Gen. Paul X. English, former division chief in the office of the chief of the CWS.

NATIONAL GUARD TO BE REVIVED
Adjutant General Gets Job Of Paying Off Veterans Bonus

Lansing, July 19 (AP)—Reorganization of state military duties aimed at bringing the new Michigan National guard "to an advanced stage of readiness" was announced by Governor Kelly Friday.

Col. Owen J. Cleary of Ypsilanti, commanding officer of the state troops' 31st regiment in Detroit will direct the National Guard campaign as deputy chief of staff to the governor, Kelly said.

Maj. Gen. Thomas Colladay, commanding general of the state troops, has been detailed to keep that organization at peak strength until it is relieved by the revived National Guard.

The task of preparing for payment of a state bonus to World War II veterans, which Kelly said he was "confident" the voters would approve in the November election when they ballot on a $270,000,000 bonus bond issue, was assigned to Brig. Gen. Leroy Pearson, the adjutant general.

Kelly said Col. Cleary will be assisted by an officer in each of the six districts into which the state has been divided for National Guard organization purposes.
